GeeksOnTime opens Phoenix hub, looking to hire

The computer repair business is gaining some momentum in the Valley.

1-800-GeeksOnTime, an independently owned provider of on-site computer services, has expanded its Southwest base of business and created an operations hub in Phoenix.

The Phoenix hub, which will employ between 20 to 30 mobile technicians, allows the company to expand its services to homes and businesses throughout the Valley.

"We started 1-800-GeeksOnTime in Phoenix and have always had a strong customer base in this area," said Venus McNabb, 1-800-GeeksOnTime founder and chief executive. "Now that our business has doubled and tripled each year, we are planning to set up regional centers which will enable us to intensify our outreach and presence in selected communities around the country."

Lynden, Wash.-based 1-800-GeeksOnTime offers a variety of services, including computer repairs and upgrades, network installation and repair, remote support and protection, emergency data recovery and IT consulting. Hourly rates start at $89 and are billed in 15-minute increments.
